

Measure the distance between the two points shown, i.e. the point where the wing joins the body, and the furthestmost tip of the forewing. Record to the nearest millimetre. Please record whether it is a male or a female.

If the monarchs are reared, as opposed to caught in the wild, I need to know this. If you are rearing them and you know the host plant that would be great too.